“THE SPIRITUAL PATH”

Kwan Yin is present, we bless your wonderful hearts. We are here today to encourage and motivate you to go on in your development and to not stand still.

There's always a moment in the spiritual development where you have to make a decision. It is exactly the moment where one realizes that the old programs and mechanisms don't function anymore and this is exactly the moment where many give up because they think they give up their lives.

But this is exactly the moment to which you will be lead. Here you have to make a decision. We're not saying that the spiritual path is an easy way – it requires braveness and highest concentration – as it is steep path, which always challenges and tests you and your genuineness. It is exactly the moment, where many turn around or fall back, as it might be uncomfortable. But we tell you - the spiritual path is a path of enlightenment. It is of a great beauty, as it is the path of love, your own love, your own love to yourself.

Many people find themselves on his path right now and many once started happy and full of courage to definitely walk this path. Fully convinced and with the knowledge of their spiritual plan. The first handicaps were taken, as there haven't been major cuts in life yet. But then the steeper pats came and the first doubts arouse. Is that what I do now, correct? Is this the right way and who benefits? Do I follow a fantasy? Will I, in the end, profit from what I wish so much?

But, what is it that you desire so much? Is it the fulfillment of your projections, your imagination and your expectations? Or is it your wish for purity and genuineness in the expression of unconditional love to yourself and others?

Many have mastered these steps, once they became aware of their projections and once they committed themselves to go further. But now the really steep passages arise where it comes to explicit decisions and to unambiguousness. It follows the profound knowledge that this path is the right one and that there are no alternatives to it.

This is the moment where many of you still fail. The MAYA – the illusion of your world – catches up on you often and quickly. You then again get lost in the conditions of your projections and you then very often look for “Masters” who serve you and feed your illusions.

All those though who have chosen the truthful, the leading way, will understand these illusions. They can look at them with ease and know for themselves that they will not want to go that way anymore. With this the path of “mastership” has already been achieved. But it takes you a lot of self conquest to once and for all leave the Maya- the illusion of the three dimensional world.

The first steep climb is exhausting. As one had decided to leave the illusion, one misses the old attachments and customs, with which one felt comfortable and to which one was stuck. One experiences a tremendous lack of energy. This state is like going through a long tunnel that lies in front - as we know it is very, very dark in the middle of the tunnel. But everyone who has gone through a tunnel knows that there is always light at the end and that one, once it is visible, accelerates to meet the light. Beloved children, don't get mislead, as the miracle of your life is awaiting you at the end of this tunnel.

Those who have overcome this exhausting part will feel that life has become noticeably lighter and that a lot what they have wished for so long fulfills itself with ease – if it has been wished according to the genuineness of the scheme of life. We today want to encourage you to not fall back into Maya, the illusion of the three dimensional world with its traps, deceit, dependences and addictions. After all it is up to your decision and you have the free will. We want to encourage you, give you hope and embolden you to go on.

Kwan Yin is present, may the Love and Genuineness open your hearts for the right path.
